Arriving & settling in.

CHECK-IN

14:00

CHECK-OUT

10:00

Keys & entry

I'll meet you at the front gate to hand over keys and show you around. Late arrival? Text me — the lockbox code is on request.

01 HOUSE GUIDE

Air conditioning

Remote on the wall — 23°C is the sweet spot.

Television

Smart TV with Netflix — use the Guest profile.

Coffee machine

Nespresso — capsules in the drawer below.

Stovetop

Induction — ignite with the black dial.

A few gentle house rules.

Thank you for respecting this home and our neighbours.

Quiet hours

22:00 – 08:00 — let's keep the neighbours happy.

No smoking

Inside or on the balcony. Spot out front by the garden.

No parties

Small gatherings fine — just give me a heads-up.

Please recycle

Easy — see the recycling page ahead.

02 WHERE TO EAT

Konoba by the harbour

Grilled fish, handmade pasta — sit outside

Morning coffee

Café opposite the church, opens at 7

Gelato stop

Trogir waterfront — pistachio is the move

Bring the dog.

Anela is a happily pet-friendly home — a few practicalities.

We don't charge for pets. We just ask that they sleep on their own bed (one is by the door), and that the courtyard gate stays shut so they don't wander into the lane.

AT THE DOOR

Bowl + bed waiting

Water bowl, food bowl, and a small dog bed are by the entrance. Use them or bring your own.

5 MIN WALK

Dog beach • Saldun cove

Pebble beach down the lane on the right, dogs allowed off-leash before 09:00 and after 18:00.

15 MIN BY CAR

Vet • Trogir

Veterinarska ambulanta Trogir, +385 21 880 320. Open Mon–Fri 08–18, Sat 08–12.

GARDEN

Shaded run + water

The fig-tree corner stays cool all day. Hose by the wall fills the bowl easily.

PLEASE

No pets in bedrooms

Living room and terrace are fine. Bedrooms please not — guests with allergies sometimes follow.

Where to leave the car.

Two free options at the property + a couple of street choices.

FREE

On the property · 2 spots

Pull into the gravel patch right of the entrance. Two cars fit comfortably; tight at three.

FREE · 30 M AWAY

Lane around the corner

Public street parking on Ul. Antuna Gustava Matoša. Empty most of the year, fills late afternoon in August.

EV

Charging

Closest fast charger is at INA Trogir (10 min by car). Slow Schuko is fine for overnight at the villa — ask host.

GOOD TO KNOW

Old town is car-free

Trogir's old town doesn't take cars. Park at the football stadium lot (€1/h) and walk over the bridge.

Where to stock up.

Daily basics, market days, and where the locals actually shop.

07-22 DAILY

Konzum • Seget Donji

5 min walk. Full supermarket — bread, produce, dairy, deli, household.

07-14 MON-SAT

Pekarna Bošković

Best burek and morning bread in the village. Takes cash only, hot until ~10:00.

SAT 07-12

Trogir green market

On the Riva. Tomatoes, peppers, figs, fresh fish from the fishermen direct.

10-22

Vinoteka Trogir

Croatian wines from small producers. The owner picks; tell him what you ate yesterday.

08-20 DAILY

Studenac • Trogir

Bigger than Konzum, slightly cheaper. Useful for a weekly run.

A day, the local way.

When each thing is at its best — by the clock.

Tourists do these in the wrong order. Here's how a Dalmatian Sunday actually unfolds.

07:30

Espresso in Stobreč

Café on the riva opens at 07:00. Get there before the first tour bus, watch the fishermen bring in the catch.

09:00

Swim before the wind

Sea is glass-flat in the morning. By 11:00 the maestral picks up. Saldun cove is 5 min from the villa.

13:00

Marenda, not lunch

A small heavy-on-the-stomach lunch with wine. Konoba Sveti Petar does the proper thing — pasticada, gnocchi, half a litre of red.

16:00

Fjaka

The local doing-nothing nap. Skip the beach in the heat; pull the shutters, sleep through it.

19:30

Sunset on Klis

30 min drive inland. The fortress at golden hour is the one Game of Thrones used. Cheap parking, no entrance after 19:00 — just sit on the wall outside.

21:30

Late dinner

Dalmatians eat dinner late. Anything before 21:00 is a tourist menu.

How

Anela got here.

Five generations between the stone and the sea.

1908

First stone laid

Anela's great-great-grandfather Ante built the original two-room house from limestone quarried at Seget. The lintel above the front door still has his initials.

1947

The fig tree

Planted the year the family came back after the war. Still here, still bearing — first crop late June, second in September.

1980s

Renovation

Anela's grandparents added the upper floor and rebuilt the courtyard. Original beams in the kitchen ceiling are from 1908.

2018

Anela inherits

Anela took on the house from her grandmother and spent two years restoring the stonework, opening the kitchen, putting the courtyard back to how it was in family photos from the 1950s.

2023 →

First guests

Opened to guests so the house pays its own upkeep. Every booking helps keep the stone pointing intact for another century.

If the maestra wins.

Indoors, dry, and still very Dalmatian.

Rain is rare in summer but it does happen — usually the sky breaks for an afternoon and clears by evening.

TROGIR • 09-19

Cathedral of St. Lawrence

30 min slow walk through the entire interior — the Radovan portal alone is worth it. €5 entry, dry, atmospheric.

SPLIT • 30 MIN BY CAR

Diocletian's Palace cellars

Underground halls of the 4th-century palace. €7, hour-long visit, completely covered.

TROGIR

Konoba Bonaca • long afternoon

The kind of place you order a peka, drink wine, and don't leave for four hours. Order the lamb peka 2 hours ahead by phone.

AT THE VILLA

Board games + smart TV

Cabinet under the TV: Carcassonne, Bananagrams, a deck of Croatian playing cards. Smart TV has Netflix and Disney+.

WHEN IT CLEARS

Air smells like pine

Best 30 min of the entire trip is the half-hour after Dalmatian rain stops. Step into the courtyard, breathe.

Without leaving the gate.

Reasons to spend a whole day at the villa.

ALL DAY

Pool & sun loungers

12×4 m pool in the courtyard, four loungers, towels in the cabana. Pool is heated April–October, deepest at the south end.

FROM 18:00

BBQ on the terrace

Charcoal grill, big enough for 8 chops or a whole branzino. Charcoal is in the cabinet under the sink. Light it 30 min before cooking.

EVENINGS

Fire pit + Dalmatian wine

Stone fire pit by the fig tree. Wood is stacked behind the cabana. Two folding chairs in the storage room — bring a blanket for September nights.

ANY TIME

Hammock under the fig

Strung between the old fig and the wall. Best in the morning before the heat sets in. Two more in the storage room if you fancy a row.

EVERY DAY

Pick from the garden

Tomatoes, basil, rosemary, mint, lemons. Take what you need — that's literally what they're there for. Lemons make the best gin & tonic.

BOULES

Bocce in the gravel

Set is in the wooden box by the entrance. Patch right of the BBQ is the regulation pitch — Anela's grandfather laid the gravel by hand.

Out of the villa, back by sundown.

Pre-vetted operators we'd send our own family to.

Book direct via the contacts below — they'll know you came from Villa Anela and you'll usually get a small local-friend discount.

A short checkout ritual.

Eight small things. Nothing tedious — promise.

We don't strip beds or wash dishes — that's the cleaner's job. The list below is just so we know the house is locked and safe by checkout.

Take out the trash

Big public bins at the corner of the lane. Yellow lid for plastic, blue for paper, green for glass.

Empty the fridge of perishables

Anything still good — leave for the cleaner with a note. Anything not — bin.

A/C off • windows shut

Each room's remote on the wall. Press OFF, close the windows, draw curtains.

Lock the front gate

Pull it shut firmly until it clicks. Spare key back in the kitchen drawer.

Drop keys in the lockbox

Lockbox is on the wall left of the gate. Code is the same as the Wi-Fi password.

Water the plants on the terrace

Watering can by the BBQ. Two passes around the pots.

Pull the TV remote out of the cushions

It always ends up there. Back on top of the TV cabinet please.

Leave a note, if you'd like

Guestbook is on the dining table. We read every entry.

Hvala — drive safe and come back. Send a postcard from wherever's next.

Festivals, market days, regattas — by the calendar.

Dates shift slightly each year — confirm at the local TZ office (turistička zajednica) on the riva when you arrive.

EVERY SAT • YEAR ROUND

Trogir green market

Tomatoes, peppers, figs, local cheese, fresh fish. 07:00–12:00 on the riva.

MID-MAY

Trogir Half Marathon

Run starts at the cathedral, finishes on Čiovo. Town is closed to cars 07:00–12:00.

JUL • WEEKLY

Trogir Summer Festival

Concerts in the cathedral courtyard every Friday + Saturday in July. Free or €5–10 entry.

EARLY AUGUST

Marenda festival • Seget

Open-air long lunch in Seget Donji's main square. Local konobas pop up with pasticada, peka, wine. Cash only.

MID-AUG

Klapa singing • Trogir Riva

Traditional Dalmatian a-cappella under the palms. Free, starts at sundown.

AUG 15 • ASSUMPTION

Velika Gospa

Religious holiday — most shops closed. Beaches busy. Restaurants packed; book ahead.

MID-SEPT

Adriatic Boat Show

If you like boats. Trogir marina hosts new yachts on display — free wandering, plenty of bars.

EARLY OCT

Olive harvest • open days

Several local OPGs (small farms) open their groves to visitors. Pressing demos, tastings.

Quick demos.

Five things that are obvious once you see them.

Short clips — usually 10–20 seconds, no sound. Tap if you'd rather watch than read.
